This course aims to build on the Professional Standards for Teaching Assistants, focussing on 'knowledge and understanding' and 'teaching and learning.' Attendees will discuss day-to-day classroom practices, effective ways of assisting the teacher and supporting the children, the importance of different types of questioning and how this impacts children's learning. They will also look at behaviour management and the way in which their role can impact on this.

An interactive, informative presentation to support all teaching assistants in striving to be the best that they can be!
